

BBQ for Books

The majority* of the proceeds from this event go toward the Howard Mabe Literacy Fund to support early literacy programs for over 2,200 young children in Stokes County in order to encourage the love of reading beginning at an early age. Programs supported are:

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library

EVERY child under 5 years of age in Stokes County receives a free book EVERY month! We launched this program in 2015 as a direct result of past proceeds from BBQ for Books.

Reach Out and Read

An evidence-based program that promotes early literacy and school readiness in pediatric exam rooms in Stokes County by giving new books to children and advice to parents about the importance of reading aloud.

Lending Library

Books are purchased to be available for check out by the public through the KidSource Child Care Resource and Referral Library in King.

Little Folks Festival & Other Events

Books are given away at community events like our Little Folks Festival (Walnut Cove & King). Young children visit a school classroom during the event and get to take a book home for free.

Funds may also be used for other early childhood programs that are underfunded, focusing on family support, health and early care and education.

BBQ for Books with a Side of Bluegrass

Bluegrass music is woven into the fabric of Stokes County's rich heritage. BBQ for Books raises funds for early literacy initiatives for the county's young children, including Dolly Parton's Imagination Library. Because of these two things, it only made sense to add a side of bluegrass to our event! Through your support, every child in Stokes County under the age of 5 receives a free book each month! See a detailed description of how proceeds are used from this event in this brochure.
